

Biographical Note

Matthew Barsalou

---

Matthew Barsalou

Matthew Barsalou is an Extramural Researcher at Poznan University of Technology and a Lean Six Sigma and Problem Solving Expert at QPLUSS and also works in the automotive industry where he provides teams with support and training in quality and statistics related tools and methods in addition to providing guidance during root cause analysis. He has a Master of Liberal Studies from Fort Hays State University, a Master of Science in Business Administration and Engineering (Industrial Engineering) from Wilhelm Büchner Hochschule, and a Bachelor of Science in Industrial Sciences from Western Kentucky University. His past positions include quality/laboratory technician, quality engineer, and quality manager.

Matthew is a certified as a Lean Six Sigma Mater Black Belt and is author of the books Root Cause Analysis, Statistics for Six Sigma Black Belts, The ASQ Pocket Guide to Statistics for Six Sigma Black Belts, The Quality Improvement Field Guide, and coauthor of Applied Statistics Manual.