Bio Prof Ansie Harding

Prof. Ansie Harding is a professor at the Department of Mathematics and Applied Mathematics at the University of Pretoria in South Africa. Although her doctorate was in numerical analysis, her current research focuses on the challenges of teaching and learning mathematics at a tertiary level. Her research contributes to understanding and alleviating the current education crisis in mathematics in South Africa, especially in addressing the under preparedness of school leavers for the transition to university mathematics. She has published extensively on harnessing technology for teaching undergraduate mathematics, investigating exciting new options in teaching. Her overall passion is in the creative side of mathematics, an interest that has led to numerous popular talks both locally and internationally.
