Paul Harding

Paul Harding

Paul Harding was born in the UK and immigrated to South Africa 37 years ago, initially to run the Nissan South Africa Tooling Division

He then took over a Quality Management position at Nissan and has worked in Quality Management for more than 32 years. After leaving Nissan South Africa as Head of Corporate Quality he joined the Board of the South African Quality Institute as a non-executive Director and later took over the position as the SAQI Managing Director, a position he holds today.

He is a Companion Member of the International Academy of Quality and also is the representative for Africa on the ASQ Technical committee for Organisational Excellence.

Paul holds a Master's Degree in Industrial Administration from the University of Cape Town. He has published a number of papers on Quality Management, Leadership and Policy Deployment. He regularly speaks at International Quality Conferences.

He has a particular interest in "Quality in Education" and has co-authored a White Paper on "Inclusive Quality of Education" that he presented at the 2nd IAQ World Quality Forum in Bled, Slovenia.
