

Biographical Note

An Kint

An Kint

Is a historian by training with degrees from the University of Ghent (master) and the Columbia University of New York (PhD). She worked in several management functions for the government and in nonprofit-organizations. At this moment, she is the director of the Flemish Quality Management Center in Belgium. She is also member of the Executive Board of the European Organization for Quality.