

Biographical Note

Catarina Santos

Catarina Santos

Is International Quality Coordinator at the Residential Water Heating division of Bosch Thermotechnology located in Aveiro, Portugal.

Degree in Materials Engineering, University of Aveiro (2005); publication in the journal "Materials Science Forum" the article "Electroconductive for ceramic composite cutting tools" presented in "Materials 2005" - XII Portuguese Materials Society Meeting; Post Graduation in "Integrated Management Systems" (Quality, Environment, Safety, Social Responsibility and ID + I), by University Fernando Pessoa University in partnership with SGS (2011); also Superior Technical Health and Safety at Work - Level V.

Start professional career in 2005 at small and medium enterprises located in the center of Portugal as Quality Manager, the professional journey also gave the opportunity to develop a large experience in industry and services companies as consultant, auditor and assessor (2009). In 2013, started at Bosch Thermotechnology as Purchasing Quality Engineer and more recently, 2015, with the role of International Quality Coordination; joint venture and due diligence support for international business and internationally quality management system auditor (ISO9001; VDA6.3), direct contact with board management from Bosch and partners that allow a large international networking in quality area.